

13. Sites, P. (1960). The impact of the university experience upon students' willingness to accept the advice and opinions of experts.

19. Braunstein, D.N., & LeBold, W.K. A field survey of air force civil engineering and cartographic officers.

20. LeBold, W.K. A factor-analytic study of the faculty and student images of a large comprehensive university.

26. A comparison of manifest needs as measured by thirty scale of the Stem activity index for students at a small college versus a large university.

29. LeBold, W.K. Purdue graduation rates of beginning engineering students.

32. Freeman, R.E. (1962). Reasons for going to college, retention, and withdrawal of freshman engineering students.

35. Wagner, K.M. (1963). Quantitative selection of students for engineering honors program at Purdue University.

37. Pearson product moment correlation coefficient and means and standard deviations for cumulative and semester indices and mathematics and physics grades of students entering in 1956.

38. Salvo, V.J. and LeBold, W.K. The characteristics of two engineering colleges: A student perspective.

44. Willer, D.E. Value change: A panel study of Purdue engineers.

55. LeBold, W.K., & Harrington, T.F. The impact of college on engineering student personality.

56. Shaw, K.A. (1966). Accuracy and inaccuracy of expectation of Purdue University's engineering environment as it relates to achievement, attrition change of degree objective, and selected background factors.

64. LeBold, W.K. (1965). Total graduates by entering Purdue, freshman engineering class.

65. LeBold, W.K. Year entering engineering at Purdue.

66. LeBold, W. K. Trends in enrollment and graduation rates for students entering Purdue in engineering and n-engineering fields by second semester school.

69. Changes in school choice 1959-60 freshmen engineering.

70. A comparative study of Purdue engineering freshman on the University of California interest inventory.

71. Educational research in the schools of engineering at Purdue University.

75. Future recommendations, use an current knowledge of selected college subjects and extent to which as engineers are familiar with following areas.

76. Gatewood, R.D. (1967). An investigation of the general academic achievement of engineering, social science, and humanities seniors at Purdue University.

77. Gatewood, R., Starry, A., & LeBold, W.K. General education achievement of Purdue engineering and humanities, social science and education seniors in social science, humanities, and natural science.

79. Salvo, V. Engineering students comments on engineering and their collegiate experience at Purdue.

83. Percentage of Purdue engineering graduates who were Indiana residents by year of graduation.

84. Number of Purdue engineering graduates from Indiana.

85. Purdue engineering educational research notes including Table 1 Purdue enrollment trends 1963-67 and Table 2 Purdue engineering admissions - high school rank, frequencies and cumulative frequencies and percentages.

86. Frequencies, cumulative frequencies and percentages engineering Class, 1966.

89. Sites, P., & LeBold W.K. 1956 freshman engineering student survey of student background, activities, and values.

90. Brown-Holtzman survey of study habits and attitudes.

92. LeBold, W.K., & Ryan Progress report of the Purdue college environment study. (Ditto's only)

97. Goforth, S., & LeBold, W.K. A profile of U.S. engineering colleges and universities. (liberal studies report #1)

98. Goforth, S., & LeBold, W.K. Trends in engineering and engineering education. (liberal studies report #2)

99. Goforth, S., & LeBold, W.K. Engineers and their participation in community affairs and leisure activities. (liberal studies report #3)

100. LeBold, W.K. Goals, engineers, and economics.

101. Scheiber, D.E. Expectations and experiences of freshman engineers of selected aspects of the Purdue University Environment.

104. Status of the Purdue freshman engineering class after four semesters (entered September 1966) TABLE

105. Status of the Purdue freshman engineering class after four semesters (entered September 1966) GRAPH

110. Molnar, G.E. A progress report on the engineering systems and programming project.

111. DeLauretis, R. Purdue Indiana engineer study.

112. An illustrative example of the application of multivariate techniques to engineering student behavior.

113. Trends of enrollment and degrees at Purdue University.

116. Purdue facilities and resources.

118. Molnar, G.E. Freshman engineering data system.

119. Chemistry report.

120. Flowchart of Purdue's engineers (entered September 1966).

122. Molnar, G.E. Trainable pattern classifiers as discriminators of engineering curricula.

123. Molnar, G.E. A Bayes minimum risk rule as a discriminator of engineering student’s field of study.

125. Molnar, G.E. And now for a few other methods which did not work.

126. Molnar, G.E. Interest test scale scores as discriminators of engineering students field of study.

129. LeBold, W.K., & Hyde, I.C. A summary of students' views regarding a beginning mechanics course in physics for engineering and science students.

133. Molnar, G.E. Program number 5, Name COUNT.

134. Molnar, G.E. Program number 10, NameDICHOT.

135. Molnar, G.E. Program number 11, Name CRSGRADE.

137. Molnar, G.E Freshman engineering data system.

139. Hyde, I.C. Sort program.

140. LeBold, W.K., & Scheiber, D.E. Counseling and orientation of freshman engineering students.

142. Hyde, I.C., & LeBold, W.K. Correlations between grades in freshman engineering core courses and pre-college data.

145. Purdue Interest Questionnaire.

200. Hyde, I. Results of the 1971-72 spring semester Purdue freshman engineering evaluation.

206. Hyde, I. Effectiveness of discriminant function in placement.

208. LeBold, W.K., & Pruett, M. Probation and counseling and it's impact on retention in college and in engineering.

212. Molnar, G. A. Preliminary study of pre-college indices and grading characteristics for students in Purdue's schools of engineering.

221. LeBold, W.K., Thomas, M., Biggam, A., & Bond, A. Factors associated with attracting and retaining black Americans in engineering.

223. LeBold, W.K., & Erlick, A. Factors influencing the science career decisions of young women.

252. Perrucci, C.C., & LeBold, W.K. A report on the Purdue University engineering and science graduate.

258. LeBold, W.K., Taylor, L.G., & Seibert, W.F. (1979). Purdue University engineering faculty views on instructional development. Center for Instructional Development in Engineering, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN.

295. Shell, K.D. Field Dependence-independence and educational vocational decisions.

300. LeBold, W.K. Putting it all together.

314. Shell, K.D., LeBold, W.K., Jagacinski, C.M., & Linden, K.W. Career planning characteristics of engineering students. (COPYRIGHT)

329. LeBold, Linden, K.W., Jagacinski, C.M., & Shell, K.D. Highlights of the national engineering career development study.

341. LeBold, W.K., & Frey, C. Major findings & methodology of 1985 research project on utilization of engineers.

342. PREP evaluation report

354. Linden, K.W., Jagacinski, C.M., LeBold, W.K., & Shell, K.D.. Comparisons among professional engineers' choices of Holland career themes, inventoried interests and selected career-development factors, submitted to AERA.

359. LeBold, W.K., Shell, K.D., & Ward, S.K. Using the Purdue Interest Questionnaire to help students make career decisions. ASEE Joint Indiana-Illinois North Central Annual Section Meeting, October 23-25, 1986, Purdue University

363. LeBold, W.K. Honors retention and selection: A research-equity perspective. 1986 Purdue Freshman Engineering Staff Retreat, Purdue University.

440. LeBold, W.K. "Student Perceptions of Their Understanding of Fluid Mechanics" Visiting Professor, Center of Interfacial Engineering, University of Minnesota. Minneapolis, Minnesota 1996.

